

August 25, 2011

Dear Superintendent,

Imagine a program where your students would eagerly compete for the opportunity to perform great poetry. A program that builds student's speaking skills, develops their appreciation for poetry, increases their self-confidence, and satisfies both Missouri Show-Me Standards and NCTE English Language Arts standards. In addition to memorizing and performing great poems, students will discuss poems and write poetry of their own.

Poetry Out Loud is a national recitation contest open to all high school students and conducted in all 50 states by the National Endowment for the Arts. Last year over 8,000 students and 268 teachers from Missouri schools participated. The Missouri Department of Elementary and Secondary Education and the Missouri Arts Council have partnered to bring this program to Missouri.

The schedule and curriculum for Poetry Out Loud are designed to fit a teacher's busy schedule. The program takes place over two to three weeks, depending on each teacher's interest and schedule, and will not require full class periods during that time. Teachers or speech coaches may choose to run the contest as an after-school program.

To learn more, request a program package from Virginia Sanders at the Missouri Arts Council. Send your name, high school, and mailing address to virginia.sanders@ded.mo.gov. You will receive a DVD of best performances, poetry, program guide with optional lesson plans, poetry anthology, and a participation form. School registration deadline is November 30, 2011. Additional information can be found at www.poetryoutloud.org.

Poetry Out Loud begins at the classroom level. Winners from each class will advance to the school-wide competition. Each school must identify a finalist by January 27, 2012 to send to the regional competition during the month of February. On the evening of March 20, 2012 the 10 Regional Champions along with their chaperons will travel to Jefferson City for a dinner with their fellow participants, legislators and Poetry Out Loud partners. On March 21, 2012 the Regional winners will compete for the title of Missouri State Champion at the Etta and Joseph Miller Performing Arts Center in Jefferson City. Prizes will include medals, certificates, school trophy and a traveling trophy. Ultimately, the Missouri champion will receive an all-expense-paid trip (with two parents or other chaperones) to Washington, D. C. for the national finals taking place May 13-15, 2012. National finals, winners will receive $50,000 total in scholarships and school stipends, with a $20,000 college scholarship for the Poetry Out Loud National Champion. The State Champion's school will receive $500 for the purchase of poetry books for their school's library. The second place winner's school will receive $200.

Please share this letter with your principals.

Sincerely,

Sharon Hoge, Ph.D.
Assistant Commissioner