Dr. Margie Vandeven
Commissioner of Education
Missouri Department of Elementary and Secondary Education
P. O. Box 480
Jefferson City, MO 65102

Dear Commissioner Vandeven,

Missouri NEA is pleased to nominate Holly Bennett to represent Missouri teachers on the Missouri Advisory Council for Certification of Educators. If approved by the Missouri State Board of Education, Bennett will begin her first four-year term. Bennett teaches middle and high school business courses and elementary keyboarding in the Kingsville R-1 district. She currently teaches elementary keyboarding, computer applications, introduction to business, accounting 1 and 2, business communications, and yearbook.

Bennett serves on the district salary and handbook committees, and the high school building leadership team. She holds a bachelors degree in business education from the University of Central Missouri with a minor in journalism. She has twelve years of teaching experience.

Bennett has two sons, aged 14 and 17, who attend school in Kingsville and are her students. She considers other students an extension of her family. School is what their lives revolve around. In a tiny district, teachers wear many, many hats. With ten preps, multiple committees, class sponsorship, Student Government Advisor, and the co-curricular/extra-curricular activities that her children are involved in, Bennett no longer considers teaching a career. It is a lifestyle. When her children graduate and go to college, she hopes to get back into scrapbooking.

Commissioner of Education
Missouri Department of Elementary and Secondary Education
P. O. Box 480
Jefferson City, MO 65102

Dear Commissioner Vandeven,

Missouri NEA is pleased to nominate Allison O'Very to represent Missouri teachers on the Missouri Advisory Council for Certification of Educators. If approved by the Missouri State Board of Education, O'Very will fill the three years remaining on Mary O'Leary's four-year term that began in 2015. O'Very teaches fifth grade at Bridgeway Elementary in the Pattonville school district. She also spent one year as a reading and math interventionist.

Though O'Very is just now completing her third year of teaching, she has been nominated twice for Pattonville Teacher of the Year. She served on the district math adoption committee and science adoption committee. She participated in the Pattonville/Washington University STEM Institute. O'Very holds a bachelors degree in psychology and child development from Truman State University, where she also earned a master's degree in education.

O'Very is an experienced leader in Missouri NEA. She served as the student liaison member of the Missouri NEA Board of Directors for two years, attended the National Education Association Representative Assembly for four years, served on the NEA Local President Release Time Program Committee as a Student Advisory Committee Liaison, and currently serves as a Pattonville NEA building representative.

O'Very attended the Rockwood School District, and remains involved in the community through sports and service activities. She feels like she gets to live out her hobby of teaching children every day.
