Ann Franklin

President, Independence Board of Education

Ann Franklin has been a member of the ISD board of directors for nine years. She brings a wealth of educational knowledge to the board, teaching for nearly 30 years in the Fort Osage School District. Civic leadership is nothing new to the Franklin family. Her husband Dick, a former teacher and high school principal, served 14 years in the Missouri House. The Franklin's have two children and two of their grandchildren graduated from Truman High School. Ann graciously gives of her time to serve on numerous committees and boards and is very active in her church and homeowners association.
