

Regional Meetings on Education – Northeast Region – Sept. 7 – Post-It Comments

- Fully fund education
- If you want it Fund It!
- Developing better people, workers, citizens, who are responsible, respectful and contributors to society. Next step: Review present required good for all kids?
- Students are more than test scores. End the insanity of over-testing!
- All students as individuals grow and develop
- The students
- That our children have a good work ethic, with a desire to do their best, and have the ability to learn and/or seek out the help, knowledge or information they may need to be successful in all that they strive to accomplish.
- The children of today – will be future – we must prepare our leaders
- Ensuring that students will be active and productive citizens within their communities.
- Have students become productive members of society.
- Preparing students to be productive members of society.
- It's about what make a student feel successful. How we as schools help them attain that not a test score.
- The kids.
- What matters to me is that ALL students regardless of ability have the knowledge, skills and character traits that allow them to meet their goals and experience success as adults; that teachers are inspiring and effective that schools are funding well enough to make it all happen.
- We must find a way to teach all students –especially disenfranchised ones. Our failure to do so is evident in the massive society unrest across the nation.
- The kids. 😊
- Students (learning)
- Every student is gifted. What matters most is creating opportunities to allow that gift to blossom
- Acceptance of neurodiversity and inclusion of all children in the learning community.
- Prepare students to be cooperative workers with the social skills that it takes to be successful in today's work force.
- All students are able to develop unique talents and abilities in order to be successful!
- Volunteers/Community Development
- Being a pivotal influence in shaping students into productive members of society
- Partnership with community, parents, students, where everyone understands success and how to get there.
- Teaching students to be self-sufficient contributors to society.
- All teachers develop positive relationships with students to help them grow.
- Effective teachers and motivation by both (teachers and Students) = successful students!!
- Quality meaningful PD for all teachers to meet all needs
- Great teachers = Great kids!
- Quality educators/Leaders
- I want to help all of my teachers be the kind of teachers that the kids in the video talked about. Brent Doolin
- Increase of resources/community partnerships to ensure opportunities for all children

Regional Meetings on Education – Northeast Region – Sept. 7 – Post-It Comments

- Having resources (the time, skills, supports) to develop the skills needed for student success as productive citizens of our communities beyond H.S. (like communication, soft skills, teamwork, responsibility. Good – ethical people)
- More resources for all kids to achieve their desired goals
- Rural education and needing resources for graduates.
- Affordable educational tools for all students.
- Develop other infrastructure to solve hunger, mental health, medical/dental/vision care and all the other social safety nets we put on schools.
- Providing the support to assist students to achieve career goals.
- Coordinating of high school curriculum with objectives with college expectations so that students are prepared to succeed.
- Bridge the gap between high school and college potential.
- Preschool initiative
- Agriculture education
- Technical Education
- That at all levels – state, community, family, individual – we are doing all we can to make Missouri schools be the best they can be.
- Public education is foundational to democracy.
- The last two farms of substantial size that sold were purchased by the same family that is past the age of having children.
- An accountability system that captures quantitative data (grade rate, employment rate, # in trade school, etc) – AND – qualitative data – the essence of success: feeling of success, value of education in community; functional member of society.