

FCCLA Delegate and Advisor Tips at State Leadership Conference

Missouri Association

Be enthusiastic! Get excited! Have a great time! Become a better leader!

Attend all meetings and arrive promptly. Stay until the end of the session. It is impolite to walk out during a speaker's presentation.

Follow the dress strong tradition of code, dressing appropriately and conservatively. FCCLA members have a high standards - help keep the tradition going!

Observe the curfew times and be considerate to others by going to bed at a reasonable hour.

No one may purchase, possess, consume or be under the influence of alcohol or drugs at any time while attending the State Leadership Conference. Smoking is not allowed. Follow the Code of Conduct.

What safety tips should I remember?

- Never travel alone - always stay with a group of two or more. No students should be outside the hotel without an adult.
- Remove all nametags when leaving the hotel.
- Don't cross the streets surrounding the hotel and conference without adult supervision.
- All deliveries for food, except hotel room service, must be picked up from the delivery person in the hotel lobby.

What should students keep with them at all times (in a wallet, purse, bag, briefcase, etc.)?

- Health/medical forms and emergency contact information; any medical items that could be needed immediately, such as inhalers
- Money and valuables that you wouldn't want to lose

What should advisors keep with them at all times?

- Copies of student health/medical forms; emergency contact numbers and information for school – during and after hours.

What should advisors give to administrators before leaving for the conference?

- Copies of the conference itinerary and contact information for hotel/conference
- Bus and rooming lists
